revealed by Saturday's bank statement. The call loan rate was pretty quiet up to noon at about 15 per cent. It flurried during the noon hour to 20 per cent, when the demand again became less urgent. The consequence was a wild scramble during the final hour to secure loans to prevent general sacrifice of holdings on the part of those who could not secure accommodation. Further accommodations were refused by the banks. The effects of this determination developed at the Stock Exchange before the day closed.

ville and Nashville. On Saturday that stock sold down from 154 to 148½, and nolders felt that there must be an upward novement in it on Monday. But on Monday, so far from opening up, it opened down from 638 points from the lowest on Saturday. There was a slight rally to 145, but later in the day a sell-ing movement again set in and it went down to 138½, which was the last and the lowest, the closing bid being even lower. Some of the Richmond traders sold out on Saturday and others sold out yesterday. A prominent Richmond broker advised his customers on Saturday to let so, and on Monday said that he was sorry they did not take his advice, as he thought the stock was going still lower. Some other traders, however, who are noted for their conservatism and for their shewdhess are helding on and believe that eventually the stock will sell very much higher. Some of these paid as high as 154 for their stock and have no idea of letting it go at present prices. There seems to be no doubt, Indeed, it was positively asserted yesterday by a Richmond broker, that the Atlantic Coast Line Company has secured a controlling interest in the Louisville road, and so far as anybody here knows to the contrary, the minority stock will be left to take care of Island. Whether or not that stock is controlling interest in the Louisville road, and so far as anybody here knows to the contrary, the minority stock will be left to take care of Island. COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The cotton market opened steady with prices 227 points higher, following the lead of Liverpool, which was materially higher than expected and being influenced by reports of damage to the Texas crop bycloudbursts. But while higher the market failed to develop activity, and for the balance of the session followed a narrow rut with unimportant changes. September alone displayed positive heastness, due to the final clearing up of old long accounts.

Wall Street bull interests supported the January option and sold March. The late weather reports from the South told of generous general rains in the belt, while the forecast was for colder weather in the Western States to-night. The South and West were buyers here during the day, the speculative public being influenced by weathers in the stock market and very "tight" money. Heavy receipts exerted small influence, having been discounted for the most part. The shorts were rather uneasy as to the probable showing by the weekly crop from Washington, and were inclined to anticipate an unfavorable statement to mortely and the statement to mortely and the statement to mortely a supportable statement to mortely and the statement to the statement to mortely and the statement to the statement to mortely and the statement to the state COTTON MARKETS. shorts were rather uneasy as to the pro-able showing by the weekly crop from Washington, and were inclined to anti-cipate an unfavorable statement to-mor-row. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—COTTON—Spot cotton quotations unchanged. Sustained by free tarding was the feature of the market for contracts to-day. The opening was 304 points higher than Saturday's figures in sympathy with a shade of improvement at Liverpool and slight upward tendency in New York, and prices gained 3 points addition on several positions. This was followed by a series of mild fluctuations, bringing the figures at the close from even to 5 points gain compared with Saturday's close.
